Businesses Can Make a Positive Environmental and Community Impact

During their recent office move, Louis Plung & Company donated to Global Links a remarkable amount of still-useful office furniture. Our team in the picture above rescued over 9 tons (18,000+ lbs!) of desks, chairs, filing cabinets, and more which Global Links can provide to communities around the world to improve working conditions for healthcare workers going without these same items. Businesses can make a positive environmental and community impact by choosing donation over disposal.

"It was a pleasure to collaborate with Global Links during our transition to the new office. We find it reassuring to know that all our previous materials—such as filing cabinets, trash cans, stacking chairs, folding chairs, and even a refrigerator—will be effectively utilized and put to good use!" said the team at Louis Plung & Company.
