Providing Urgently Needed Support to our Partners in Haiti

Haiti is facing a severe crisis, marked by political instability, economic challenges, and frequent natural disasters. The suffering of its people has worsened due to a lack of adequate resources and essential supplies in critical sectors, including healthcare and disaster response. After requests from our long-term partners at Hôpital Albert Schweitzer - Haiti (HAS), we were able to provide urgently needed support by sending a range of essential supplies in 2024. This included menstrual health and hygiene kits to address the needs of women and girls, disaster preparedness kits, clinical furniture which you can see in use in the photos above, and surgical supplies to improve the hospital's ability to deliver effective medical care. Our partners have needed to be creative, but everything arrived safely to the hospital. Thank you to our supporters - your help alleviates some of the immediate hardships faced by the Haitian people and builds the capacity of local healthcare providers to respond to ongoing challenges!
